My family and I do many things to go green. We conserve energy by changing all our light bulbs to energy saving bulbs. My mom brings water with us when we go out on the weekends to prevent from purchasing bottled water at the store. We turn off the lights when we're not using it. We turn off the water while we brush our teeth and while we soap ourselves when showering. My mom uses re-usable cloth bags when doing her grocery shopping. We recycle by using cut grass and shredded papers in the base of our potted plants. My mom uses rotten vegetable, fruits and the skin of the vegetables as food for her flowers. Instead of throwing them in the trash can, we collect soda cans, plastic bottles and used motor oil and bring them to the recycling center. Instead of throwing away our old clothes, we give them to our cousins. These are some examples of what our family does to go green and save planet Earth.
